Deputy hits girl on bike in Bayside mishap

Sheriff releases accident video

BY GEOFF BELCHER
NEWS EDITOR

An accident review board will investigate what happened on Wednesday evening when a Hancock County sheriff's deputy accidentally hit a 7-year-old girl while she was riding on her bicycle at Bayside Park.

Deputy Colin Freeman was driving his K-9 vehicle on West Hinds Street in front of the Bayside Fire Department when his vehicle struck the bicycle being ridden by Makaylah Thompson, Adam said. Freeman will remain on duty, Adam said.

"It was an unfortunate accident," Adam said, but it was "unavoidable. He was doing below the speed limit and the child darted into the road on a bicycle from behind a parked vehicle in a driveway with its rear bumper up to the roadside.

"The child was up and around before AMR got there and -- according to AMR -- they took the child to the hospital as a precaution."

Makaylah's family has a different viewpoint.

"Thank God, she's wasn't hurt worse," her aunt said Wednesday. "She's got a big ol' knot on the back of her head and the side of her face is all scabbed up."

The aunt, who asked to have her name withheld, said the deputy should have been able to avoid the accident.

"She was right on the side of the road," she said. "There was no way he couldn't have seen her."

Second Kiln man sentenced to prison for Boy Scout Camp burglary

SEA COAST ECHO

District Attorney Joel Smith announced Friday that 30-year-old Jeremy Perkins of Kiln, pled guilty at the Hancock County Courthouse this week to two counts of burglary and one count of being a felon in possession of a weapon.

Circuit Court Judge Lisa Dodson accepted Perkins' pleas and sentenced him to 24 years and suspended 12 years, leaving 12 years to serve in prison, followed by 12 years of post-release supervision, a $2,000 fine and $3,500 restitution to be paid to Salmen Boy Scout Reservation Camp for their damages.

Perkins' sentence will run consecutive to a 10-year suspended sentence from Pearl River County on a prior firearms charge. Perkins is subject to revocation of probation on the 10-year sentence from Pearl River County due to the Hancock County convictions.

The investigation began on Aug. 5, 2017, when the Hancock County Sheriff's Office responded to a report of a burglary at the Salmen Boy Scout Reservation Camp. Deputies used surveillance cameras to identify the two suspects in the burglaries. The men broke into a workshop and cafeteria areas and removed firearms and tools. Deputies successfully recovered most of the property that was taken, including firearms and a pickup truck. The suspects were interviewed and confessed to the burglaries.

BY GEOFF BELCHER

Bobby Hebert, the legendary "Cajun Cannon," was all smiles Friday when he placed the first-ever wager at the Silver Slipper Casino Hotel's new Sports Book facility during its grand opening.

Hebert -- a former quarterback for the New Orleans Saints who helped lead the team to its first-ever playoff appearance -- placed his bet on the Saints to win the next Super Bowl.

Hebert said he was excited "to be a part of the gaming now that's going to come about in Mississippi."

"We're pretty excited about the Sports Book coming on-line," Silver Slipper General Manager John Ferrucci said Friday.

Since the U.S. Supreme Court ruling in May 2018 that legalized sports wagering, the management team at Silver Slipper has been working diligently to add the Sports Book to its gaming offerings for its guests, Ferrucci said.

"The goal from day one for us has always been to open our Sports Book prior to the opening game for college football," he said. "And we are right on schedule."

The Slipper Sports Book will open at 11 a.m. Monday through Friday and at 9 a.m. Saturday and Sunday. The Slipper Sports Book will offer guests an opportunity to make wagers on a variety of sporting events such as college and professional football, baseball, and basketball and much more, Ferrucci said.

Waveland board discusses incident with city employee

BY CASSANDRA FAYRE
STAFF WRITER

The Waveland Board of Mayor and Aldermen on Wednesday heard from Waveland resident Bryan Therolf about a situation he had with a city employee.

Therolf said the incident took place in May at his property, located at 210 Gulfside, with public works employee Darrell Antoine.

Therolf said he shut the home down in October and opened it up again in the latter part of April.

Therolf said when he shut off the utilities, he didn't drain the water correctly, and there were several hard freezes last winter.

"I went back to utilities here to have the water turned back on and that afternoon I came home and they told me that the water was turned on," Therolf said. "There was no water and I received no phone call."

Therolf said he went to the public works office to inquire about why his water was not turned on. He said he also brought his paperwork and proof of deposit paid.

Therolf said the employee he saw at the office offered to turn on the water for Therolf.

"He turned it on and it became obvious real quick why my water wasn't on," Therolf said. "Because of broken lines underneath the house."

Therolf said the employee shut it off right away and told Therolf he could have the pipes fixed by 10 a.m. the next day.

"I assumed he had a brother or a friend that could do it that was a plumber," Therolf said. "I said that would be great."

Therolf said he was also asked to be present at the property to ensure there were no problems when the water was turned back on.

Therolf said at around 9:30 a.m., he got a call from Antoine, who said he needed to reschedule for 3 p.m.

"At 2:30 p.m., I get a call from Darrell," Therolf said, "who said 'Mr. Bryan, your line is fixed.'"

Therolf said he was asked to return to the home prior to the water being turned on.

"I said 'how much do I owe you?'" Therolf said. "He said '$100.'"

Therolf said he agreed to that amount.

"I turned the corner, there's a city truck in front of my house," Therolf said. "Darrell's a city worker. Darrell has fixed my lines on city time. I handed the $100 to him right away. I was quite surprised, but that was the agreement over the phone. Darrell fixed my line on the residence side of the meter out of a city truck, with city materials, on city time."

Therolf said he also discussed the upcoming elections in Waveland with Antoine. Therolf said he told Antoine that he was "unable to support Alderman Richardson."

"24 hours later, Alderman Richardson is right behind me as I'm pulling into my driveway, and said 'Mr. Bryan, I understand you're talking bad about me,'" Therolf said.

Therolf said he also went to the utilities department again and relayed what had happened to the utility manager.

Therolf said he was asked which employee told him that he could get the line fixed.

"I said, 'I don't know,'" Therolf said. "The man that works for the city that fixed the line, his name is Darrell."

About a month later, Therolf said, he went back to the utility department to see if there had been a resolution and did not receive a clear answer.

"I see this (travel approval for Antoine) on the agenda and I really question what's going on in public works," Therolf said.

Waveland Mayor Mike Smith asked Therolf to write a statement about the event.

Alderman Bobby Richardson said he was "unaware" of the work that Antoine performed for Therolf.

"The only reason I came to your house that day, and I came to you very pleasantly, and asking you kindly that I've heard rumors that you had bad feelings about me," Richardson said. "And I just asked you kindly to get it off my mind. And that was the only conversation that we had. I just wanted to clarify that I had no understanding of any of the work done for you."

Smith vouched for Richardson and said that he is an "upstanding man."

He also referenced the work completed for Therolf as a "termination offense."

City attorney Gary Yarborough said that although there is "not generally a requirement to discuss personnel items in executive session," he suggested that the matter be discussed there.

Therolf said that he has also spoken with Alderman Jeremy Burke about the situation and said that "Alderman Richardson knows that happened." Therolf said he also heard that Antoine had been moved to parks and recreations.

Smith later apologized to the crowd for his earlier remark, but said "it pisses me off when I hear stuff like this."

Alderman Shane LaFontaine suggested that the board hold any further discussion about the incident in executive session.

The board entered into executive session and returned with no action taken.

Smith said Thursday that the "employee has been placed on administrative leave, pending further investigation."

In other action:

After a public hearing, the board declared 750 S. Beach Blvd. a menace to public health and safety. The motion also authorizes the city to enter the property for up to a year to clean and also assess a lien against the property owner.

The board also authorized city personnel to obtain quotes for filling in the pool and grass cutting.

Smith read aloud a letter from the area's congressional representatives, Sen. Roger Wicker, Sen. Cindy Hyde-Smith, and Rep. Steven Palazzo, to FEMA in support of Waveland's second appeal of FEMA's decision to de-obligate funds in the amount of $1.4 million spent on temporary sewer collection systems after Hurricane Katrina.

Smith announced that a demolition permit was pulled on Wednesday to remove the remains of Barnacle Bill's Water Park on Hwy. 90. Demolition is expected to begin in about two weeks, he added.

Alderman Jeremy Burke said there have been ongoing collection issues with Waste Management, especially "in and around St. Joseph Street and Nicholson Avenue."

Burke said the contract with Waste Management is through the Hancock County Solid Waste Authority. He read a letter from Hancock County Solid Waste Authority administrator Dawn Malley to Allen Duda with Waste Management of Mississippi.

The letter detailed the number of households where there were no collection services in Waveland, Bay St. Louis, and Hancock County.

In Waveland, 31 households were not collected on July 6; 2 households were not collected on July 17; 5 households were not collected on July 24; 17 households were not collected on July 25; 3 households were not collected on July 31; and 2 households were not collected on August 3.

Hancock County Tourism Bureau manager Myna Green approached the board with a proposed FY 2019 budget request. Green said the bureau is asking Waveland for $1,000 a month.

Comptroller Ron Duckworth gave the board a financial review ending July 31.

The total cash for governmental activity equaled $6,086,405 with $3,846,543 on deposit in depository account, Duckworth said. The total cash for business activities totaled $2,649,019 with

Remembering kindness and paying it forward

Between a hurricane and a volcano menacing Hawaii and the wildfires ravaging the West Coast, hose of us who have been through hurricanes, flooding or fire or other destruction know that much of the country is hurting right now.

Of course, the catastrophic loss of life is the most tragic element, but the survivors are facing several weeks and months of more sorrow. Businesses and homes can be repaired or replaced, but that comes at great expense and takes a lot of time.

There are also things lost, favorite places or landmarks, that are lost and gone forever. That sort of thing really changes a community.

Then if and when you finally get the money to repair or replace, everyone else in the community is doing the same thing, so when you are trying to replace lost furniture or appliances or other things, there is limited availability, and sometimes price gouging because of demand.

There is also a huge influx of people to any town after a disaster -- many of whom legitimately want to help -- but others who want to take advantage. There are those who pretend to be experts in all sorts of repairs.

We sure had our fill of those folks after Katrina. Fortunately, we also had our true saviors after Katrina, the volunteers from churches and charitable organizations. There is a tremendous amount of difference between the true volunteers and those who just came to line their pockets.

The true volunteers were kind. They fed us, clothed us, and helped us rebuild our homes. They helped make our lives better and enriched our spirits.

We will long remember their kindness.

I will also always remember the men and women of our military who came to help. They were the first on the ground to get us the things we needed in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina.

I will never forget those helicopters landing at the McDonald ball field, bringing in something as simple and yet vital as ice.

Let's all remember the gifts that were given to us, and try to pay them forward.

May those rebuilding after Harvey and Irma -- and the fires out west -- be as fortunate as we.

Wicker Says Senate Is Getting the Job Done on Funding Bills

Lawmakers Have Overcome Past Roadblocks in Exercising 'Power of the Purse'

The Senate has largely done its part to meet a major deadline, which is only a month away.

September marks the end of the fiscal year, when federal funding decisions are due for 2019.

Thanks to bipartisan support for open debate and amendments, many of the funding decisions for next year have already been approved by the full Senate and are well on their way to becoming law. When the House of Representatives gavels back into session after Labor Day, the Senate will have passed at least 9 of the 12 annual appropriations bills, demonstrating significant and encouraging progress toward restoring regular order to the Senate floor.

Even some of the most persistent roadblocks have been overcome, such as the spend-

From the Senate

by Roger Wicker

ing bill to fund the departments of Health and Human Services, Education, and Labor. Funding for these departments had not received Senate floor consideration since 2007 but has now been passed by a vote of 85 to 7.

Funding Oversight Is Essential to Constitution's Checks and Balances

A regular appropriations process is good for the American taxpayer, because the consideration of funding bills individually allows Congress to apply appropriate oversight on government agencies and cut wasteful spending. Otherwise, the bills are put together in a massive, unwieldy "omnibus" measure to fund the government, which President Trump has said he would not sign again.

It is also critical for Congress to fulfill its unique "power of the purse," a responsibility granted by the Constitution in its separation of powers. As representatives of the people, lawmakers are best positioned to identify local needs and direct the appropriate funding toward them. Likewise, control of the purse can put a check on any excessive spending by executive agencies.

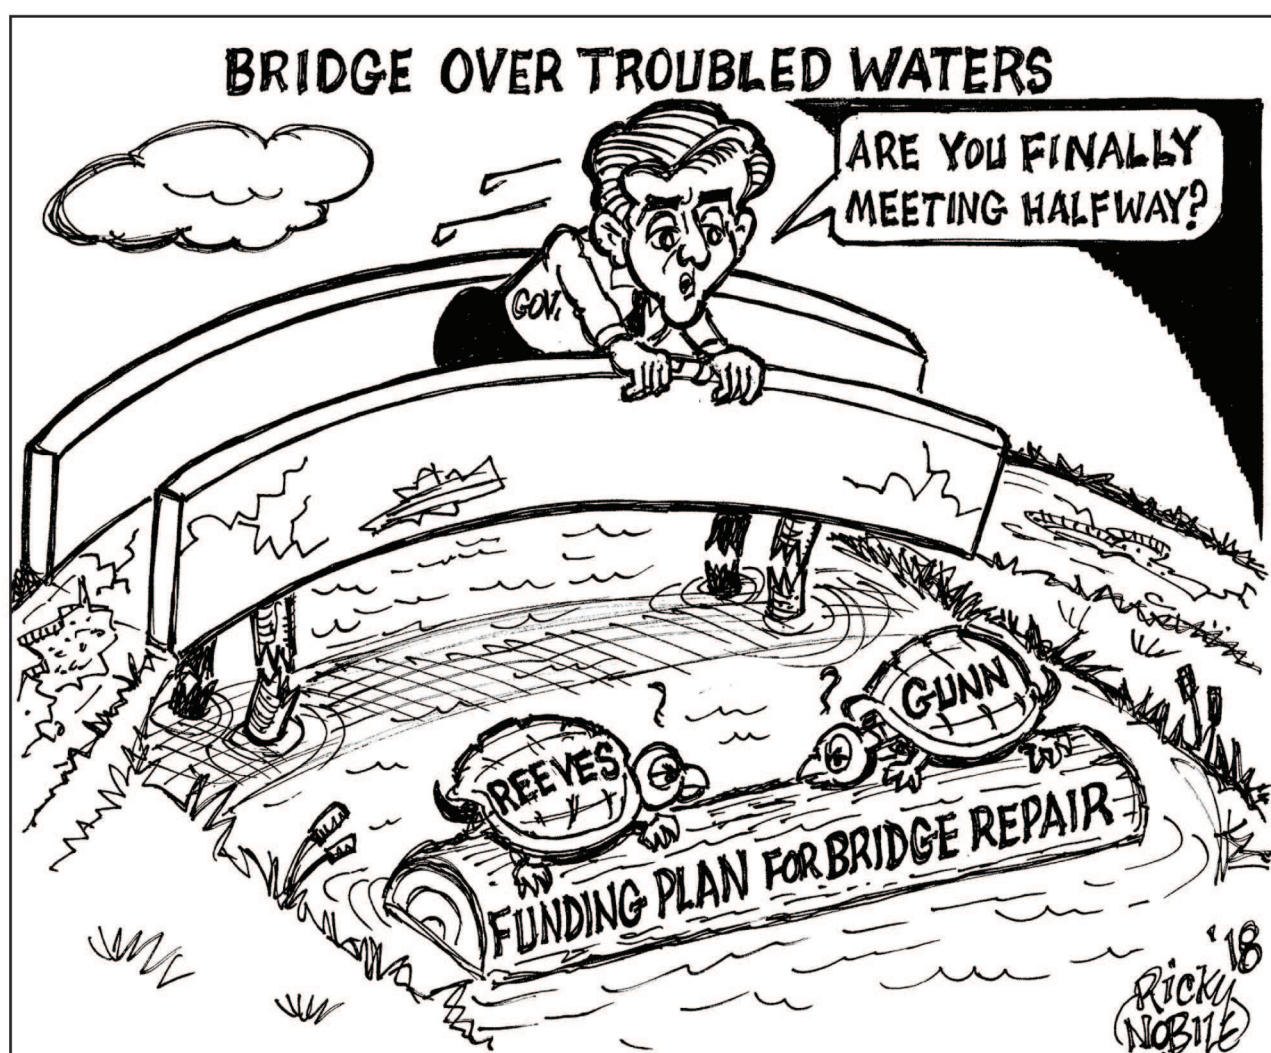

Bipartisan Cooperation Needed

During Consideration of Supreme Court Nominee

Another constitutional duty the Senate is set to fulfill next month is its consideration of Judge Brett Kavanaugh for the Supreme Court seat left vacant by Justice Anthony Kennedy. I recently spoke on the Senate floor about my support for Judge Kavanaugh, reminding my colleagues of the "advice and consent" that the Constitution asks the Senate to provide for judicial nominees.

The noise from outside political groups who oppose Judge Kavanaugh should not distract from lawmakers' full and thorough review of his credentials, which I have found to be impressive. With 300 published legal opinions, there is no shortage of information on Judge Kavanaugh's legal philosophy. However,

Recreating the wilderness

The science gets ever more dire. The politics runs the other way.

We've claimed hold of the planet, but cluelessly, like the sorcerer's apprentice. Welcomed to the Anthropocene: the age of humanity intertwined with nature.

"Climate change is not a problem we have to make go away, in a sense that you don't make adolescence go away," astrophysicist Adam Frank said to Chris Hedges. "It is a dangerous transition that you have to navigate... The question is, are we smart enough to deal with the effects of our own power?"

The planet itself is transitioning, to God knows what. There may be no human race on the other side of that transition, but maybe there will be. Either way, we have to reach well beyond ourselves.

Usually when the topic

GUEST
by Robert C. Koehler

is climate change, what you get is science mixed with politics — the experts and the leaders — warning us and failing us, and then positing an ultimatum for the human race at large, e.g., "Humanity has a big decision to make very soon about its future on a warming planet." We must lower CO2 emissions. We need new regulations. To hear such a message, as simply a member of the global public, is to be left feeling utterly powerless, a spectator, wishing "they" would do something to start fixing this mess.

That's why I took heart in the perspective Frank expressed to Hedges, not because it was simpler (it's anything but that), but because it transcended science and geopolitics and shattered the comfort zone of helplessness. He said:

"We're going to have to evolve a new way of being a civilization."

Maybe the starting place is for everyone to start evolving past his or her own sense of powerlessness. We're not just spectators. In a sense, we're all refugees, or soon enough will be, paddling for our lives to some distant spiritual shore.

Eric Holthaus, writing at grist.org, gave an example of what that means: "In 1980, a group of friends at the end of a backpacking trip across the Rockies formed a radical eco-movement known as Earth First! In their first statement of principles, they laid out a straightforward goal: 'We do not wish to merely preserve what's left, we want to recreate wilderness.'"

What could that possibly mean? The first thing I hear in such a statement is a deep rethinking of what it means to have power — not over but with nature. Right now we're trapped in a global socioeconomic infrastructure that is antithetical to any sort of reverence for the natural world. In our adolescent sense of power, the best we are able to do is preserve patches of scenic beauty —

State lottery bill passes both MS House & Senate

BY GEOFF BELCHER
NEWS EDITOR

The Mississippi Legislature doubled-down on efforts to pass a state lottery bill this week during special session, Sen. Philip Moran said Friday.

"The Senate version of the lottery bill, we passed it yesterday," Moran said. "The House passed it today. They passed a different version of the bill, so we're going to have to work it out on Monday in conference. I'm a part of that discussion, being the author of the bill, and I'm confident that we'll work this out and -- at the end of the day -- we'll have a state lottery."

Moran introduced the bill in January during the legislature's regular session. The bill got some traction, but ultimately failed to make it through. After Gov. Phil Bryant called for a special session this week to deal with infrastructure funding, Moran saw his opportunity to get the lottery bill moving again.

Currently, Mississippi is one of only six states in the nation with no legal lottery. The others include Alabama, Alaska, Hawaii, Nevada and Utah.

Sen. Philip Moran

Moran said Mississippi residents spend an estimated $70 million annually on lottery tickets in neighboring states like Louisiana, Arkansas and Tennessee.

Moran said he believes it would be better for the state if Mississippians spent that money at home rather than elsewhere.

"This will allow our citizens the ability to buy a lottery ticket without having to cross over state lines," he said. "I feel good that we're going to be able to work it out. There are a few things that have to be tweaked on it, but that's okay. That's part of the negotiation process."

One aspect that needs to be "tweaked" is a provision that would prohibit video lottery terminals. Mississippi gaming officials are steadfastly opposed to the video terminals, but some legislators have argued they should be allowed in order to keep from limiting free enterprise.

Moran said the legislature is also very close on passing a fair bill on the division of the so-called "BP money" which the oil conglomerate paid to the state after the Deepwater Horizon disaster in 2010.

Some northern Mississippi legislators want equal shares of those funds, while Coast lawmakers like Moran believe they should stay on the Coast, which bore the full brunt of the disaster.

"We've worked very, very hard with our colleagues, explaining it to them," Moran said. "The damage occurred here. At the same time, I appreciate their feelings on it, that they should have some (of the money) as well ... but I'm looking at settling this once and for all and put our portion to work on the Coast. We know we're not going to get 100 percent of it, but if we could get an 80-20 or 75-25 split, that would be a homerun."

The legislature adjourned for the weekend on Friday evening, but will return to special session on Monday.

Democrats continue to make extraordinarily excessive demands in an effort to slow down the confirmation process. They have requested hundreds of thousands of documents from his career — more than any other previous Supreme Court nominee.

I look forward to the committee hearings and floor debate on Judge Kavanaugh, which are expected in the Senate in the coming weeks. I am also hopeful my Democratic colleagues will extend the same bipartisan spirit of cooperation to Judge Kavanaugh's confirmation process that has been essential to advancing this year's appropriations bills. His many qualifications and well-regarded reputation should speak for themselves.

national parks, etc. — which resonates with clueless arrogance, like “honoring” indigenous cultures behind glass cases in our museums.

The idea of “recreating wilderness” is absolutely paradoxical, but embracing paradox is part of the challenge. Wilderness is at the soul of Planet Earth, you might say. It's not ours, either to exploit or preserve, but simply to cherish and be part of. Humanity, or at least a piece of it, broke away from the circle of life ten millennia ago. It developed agriculture, written language, civilization. Now, paradoxically, it must, as it evolves a new way of being a civilization, reach back to what it once was and reclaim the wisdom of being part of wilderness . . . of life itself.

Writing about the Anthropocene is incredibly difficult, because ultimately it means addressing the Unknown. Is it possible to put the Unknown into words?

Rupert Ross, in his remarkable book Returning to the Teachings, addresses, among much else, the concept of language itself, making the point that Western languages, including English, at their very core create a sense of separation: The universe is a slew of loose, disconnected nouns, which are the speaker's to control. Ancient languages, and modern-day indigenous languages, are differently structured, maintaining the speaker's ties to life. He describes the difference in a metaphor:

“It has to do with the difference between standing behind the triple-pane window of your cliffside mansion and watching the sun go down over a quieting ocean — and watching instead the first beginnings of a sunrise over that same ocean, but from flat on your belly on a wet surfboard three hundred miles out from shore, as the ocean beneath you awakens.

“In the cliffside mansion, there is a conviction of separation, stability and control. On the surfboard, there is the conviction of intimate and inescapable exposure to unfathomable powers which, while they might let you ride them, will never let you gain control over them.”

Can we leave the cliffside mansion without abandoning a sense of control over our destiny? I have no idea. Indeed, I have no idea what it would mean, under current circumstances, to return to reverence and connection to the planet, and even if we did, would that stop what we've already set into motion?

From our mansion, we've remade the planet: dammed its rivers, paved and lit much of its surface, dumped a continent's worth of plastic into its oceans.

“On our current path,” the Smithsonian Institute websitenotes, discussing the Anthropocene, “ice cap melt will cause sea levels to rise to levels where many major cities will be at very high risk of flooding, and natural disasters will cause damage to our communities at catastrophic levels on a much more regular basis. Forests are shrinking at a startling pace — every year, we lose a swath of forest the size of Massachusetts. If temperatures rise by only the most conservative estimates, at least 20-40% of Earth's animal diversity will be at increased risk of extinction, and pollution and poaching will lead to the extinction of dozens more species. All of these problems are exacerbated by an ever-growing human population, which has more than doubled in the last fifty years.”

Perhaps the biggest paradox of all is this: Even as we stare unblinkingly at the reality of what we have created — the Anthropocene — we cannot give up hope that we can move to a new level, that we can evolve beyond what we have set into motion. We can find our way back to the wilderness.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors will hold a public hearing on its proposed budget and proposed tax levies for fiscal year 2018-2019 on September 4, 2018 at 2:00p.m. at the Board of Supervisors Meeting Room at 854 Highway 90, Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi 39520.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors is now operating with projected total budget revenue of $ 38,426,927.00. (60%) or $23,022,010.00 of such revenue is obtained through ad valorem taxes. For the next fiscal year, the proposed budget has total projected revenue of $36,995,623.00. Accident

Adam on Friday released the video footage of the accident and a press release to correct what he said were "inaccurate statements made concerning the unfortunate events."

"It is my opinion that once the public sees the video, it will be agreed by most that this accident was not only unavoidable by my deputy, but the statements made about speeding, leaving skid marks and having to be flagged down are utterly false," Adam said. "In light of multiple inaccurate statements made concerning the unfortunate events on August 22nd in a traffic accident occurring in Bayside Park, I feel compelled to release the video footage of the accident involving one of my deputies and a seven year old girl on her bicycle.

"It is my opinion that once the public sees the video, it will be agreed by most that this accident was not only unavoidable by my deputy, but the statements made about speeding, leaving skid marks and having to be flagged down are utterly false.

"The patrol unit that was involved in the accident is equipped with an in-car camera system. This camera system is wired into the vehicle's computer system, which documents factors such as vehicle speed, brake use, use of turn signals and more. This system shows my deputy was traveling at a rate of 17 to 19 mph in a 25 mph speed zone at the time the child's bike ran into the side of the patrol vehicle. In addition, there was no rapid application of breaks, which would cause skid marks. Finally, the vehicle came to rest approximately one car length from the injured child's bicycle, obviously indicating that he stopped immediately upon the child coming into contact with his vehicle.

"With the comments made that my deputy walked around for ten minutes before reporting the accident or requesting medical assistance are false. According to the GPS system associated with the in-car camera system, it shows that the collision occurred at approximately 7:07 p.m. A report pulled from the dispatch logs indicate that the call was received at approximately 7:08 p.m.

"With reports of the child having to be seen at two emergency departments, I am only aware that the child sought treatment at Ochsner Medical Center - Hancock and was subsequently released. I am not aware that the child was transferred to a second facility, nor that the child had injuries which warranted a second visit.

"Again, while I typically do not comment on cases that are currently being investigated, after the false statements being made by some were brought to my attention, it became obvious that these were personal attacks made towards my deputy. I felt the only choice was to release the video of the event so the accurate facts could be known by all. In every instance, I will fully execute the duties of my office to ensure that my deputies and staff act in lawful and rightful ways. When my deputies are rightful in their actions, I will fully defend them, rising above the exploitation of social media sensationalism.

"The child having no major injury, we must be thankful for the most fortunate outcome in this accidental situation. However, it is also a time to be mindful that as parents, we must remain diligent in our supervision of our children, be they near public roadways, in parking lots or other areas of congested traffic. This same diligence should be had when our children are swimming, near flames at cookouts or there are firearms in a home. Many children experience injuries, minor and major, from incidents that could have been avoided with proper parental supervision. We are all very blessed that this incident did not have a more disastrous outcome."

Sixteen "wayfinding" signs are being installed around Hancock County to help direct visitors to businesses and tourism destinations.

Visitor wayfinding signs going up across Hancock

SEA COAST ECHO

Over the next week, residents and visitors will begin to see 16 way finding signs being installed across Hancock County to direct people to business districts and heritage tourism resources to drive business sales.

This project is made possible through a $25,000 grant awarded to the Hancock Community Development Foundation from the Mississippi Gulf Coast National Heritage Area Heritage Area (MGNHA). The Hancock Chamber of Commerce is managing the project for the Foundation. Signage was designed by unabridged Architecture and engineering was provided through the Hancock County Board of Supervisors by Compton Engineering. The signs have been manufactured and are being installed by Lightning Quick Signs. All of the companies involved in the project are Hancock County businesses and members of the Hancock Chamber of Commerce.

The signs will be placed along Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis and Waveland and key locations along Beach Boulevard Scenic Byway to direct people to visitor resources and business districts to drive sales for area merchants, casinos and lodging establishments. There will also be a sign placed at the entrance to Diamondhead to direct visitors to shops, restaurants, city hall and when complete, the new visitor center. Another sign will be installed on Highway 603 to direct people to a new visitor center being established at Lazy Magnolia Brewing Company by the Kiln Chamber, a division of the Hancock Chamber. The sign also directs visitors to McLeod Park and the Kiln business district.

The Beach Boulevard Scenic Byway was recently named by Budget Travel as one of the top six scenic byways in the United States. "Using signage, this project will help tell the area's nationally significant story celebrating the area's unique history, people, tradition and landscapes," said Tish Williams, executive director of the Hancock Chamber.

The grant is made possible by continued funding from the Mississippi Legislature and annual Congressional appropriations to the National Park Services that passes funds to National Heritage Area (NHA) entities. This grant is matched by the work the Hancock County Board of Supervisors provided to design and engineer a comprehensive plan for a system of interpretive and directional signs for the Mississippi Beach Boulevard Scenic Byways program. Hancock scalp Braves 41-34 in overtime

BY DWAYNE BREMER
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

Hancock Hawks' senior linebacker Trenton Ladner picked a perfect time to record his first high-school interception.

The pick, in overtime, sealed a dramatic 41-34 victory over the South Jones Braves in a thrilling home opener at Brett Favre Field.

"I knew they wanted to get the ball to number seven," Ladner said. "I sat down in the zone to take him away and the ball came right to me."

Ladner was not the only Hawk to provide heroics on Friday night.

Running back Blake Comeaux produced the best game of his high-school career, rushing for 213 yards on 27 carries and four touchdowns. He also provided a critical 52-yard reception on the game-tying drive late in the fourth quarter.

With the victory, the Hawks (2-0) won their eighth consecutive game at home, a school record.

Head Coach Neil Lollar said there is something special about Friday nights in Kiln, Mississippi.

"We just feel really comfortable here," Lollar said. "The kids have a never-quit attitude. We overcame a lot of adversity tonight and we are starting to gel in several areas."

Friday's game was filled with big plays and big momentum swings.

South Jones opened the scoring when quarterback Jon Mitchell connected with Travis Conner on a 13-yard touchdown pass at the 7:43 mark of the first quarter.

Hancock answered with an 11-play drive that spanned 92 yards.

Comeaux capped the drive with a one-yard plunge. Austin Hyde's point-after tied the score 7-7 with 3:30 to play in the first quarter.

A 67-yard run by the Braves' Vekelson Campbell set up Mitchell's second touchdown pass. Once again, it was Conner on the receiving end, this time from nine yards out.

Hancock quickly answered with a 34-yard touchdown pass from Caleb Garcia to Brooks Rayburn.

Hancock took its first lead of the game at the 7:05 mark of the second quarter when Comeaux scooted into the endzone from 20 yards out.

The point-after was blocked, but the Hawks led 20-14.

A late second-quarter drive by the Braves was thwarted when Hancock's Tyler Kapp forced a fumble that Nicholas Neglar recovered at the 24.

Early in the third quarter, the Hawks extended their lead to 28-14 when Jordan Fouchee scored his first high-school touchdown on a seven-yard run.

The drive was aided by a 30-yard kickoff return by Anthoni Flowers.

The Braves answered with a nice drive that ended in a 30-yard scoring run by Mitchell.

Later in the third, the Braves took the lead when Mitchell broke free on an 87-yard touchdown run.

Mitchell led all rushers in the game with 243 yards on 16 carries. He completed three of 15 passes for 31 yards.

The point-after gave South Jones a 29-27 lead with 1:42 to play in the third.

South Jones then recovered an on-sides kick and converted it into another touchdown. Campbell did the honors on a one-yard run.

The Braves attempted a fake on the point-after, but it was sniffed out by Ladner, keeping the game a one-score contest at 34-27.

The score remained the same until late in the fourth quarter when the Hawks put together a 77-yard drive to tie it up.

The big play of the drive was a 52-yard completion to Comeaux on a third down play.

After a penalty, Fouchee hauled in a 29-yard catch for a first down at the 11.

Comeaux scored on a six-yard run two plays later and Hyde added the point-after to tie the game 34-34 with 2:08 to play.

A desperation 58-yard field goal attempt by South Jones fell short, sending the game to overtime.

The Hawks took possession and scored three plays later when Comeaux hit paydirt from a yard out.

Hyde's point-after made the score 41-34.

South Jones attempted to answer, but Ladner ended the game with his interception in the endzone.

Garcia completed 12 of 16 passes for 259 yards. Rayburn hauled in six passes for 92 yards and Fouchee added 60 yards receiving.

The Hawks will travel to Gautier next Friday.

Bulldogs bite through the Pirates

BY HUNTER DAWKINS
GAZEBO GAZETTE

With the opening of the newly-polished McDonald Stadium, the Pass Christian Pirates fought from behind most of the game as the Lanier High School Bulldogs from Jackson burned over 80 plays on offense and caused four punts and two fumbles.

Offensively, the Pirates couldn't find the answers like the did during last week's Oyster Bowl, as the Pirates lost to the Bulldogs 30-14.

"We shot ourselves in the foot a lot in the first half," said Pirate Head Football Coach Casey Wittmann. "Lanier's a physical football team and they got after us in the first half."

The Bulldogs jumped on the leaderboard early, bringing out a ten-play drive that ended on a five-yard stretch for a touchdown by Lanier freshman Christopher Jones with 8:31 left in the first quarter. The extra point was blocked, which led to an early 6-0 lead by the Bulldogs.

The Pirates did not answer well with gunslinging quarterback Dustin Allison completing two passes, but only for one yard and was sacked for a ten-yard loss. The Bulldogs blocked the fourth down attempt at punting and got the ball inside the twenty yard line.

Seven plays later, Lanier quarterback Ladarious Maves-Peel dove in from seven yards out for the score and the two point extra point was converted for a 14-0 lead by the Bulldogs with 3:24 left in the first.

Pass Christian and Lanier were three-and-outs on both next possession to end the quarter, with the Pirates not gaining any momentum with the first series and the second having a five yard loss and two incompletions.

The Bulldogs put together a seven-yard drive on the ground, chipping away across the ends before Maves-Peel faked the hand-off and strolled in from twelve yards out. After completing the two point conversion with 8:56 left in the half, the new score was 22-0 Lanier.

Someone must have put a bolt of lightning in senior Pirates kick returner Damonte May's step because after retrieving the ball from the one-yard line, he jolted through the line and was not touched for 99 yards. It was Pass Christian's first touchdown at home this year. Once the Pirates' kicker Dave Klein put the extra point through the uprights, the new score was 22-7, Lanier leading.

As it happened all night, the Bulldogs pounded the ground with ten plays before the Pirates' defense made a few defensive stops, including tackles for loss by linebacker Gordon Ward and defensive tackle Devin Scandurro. These plays led to a turnover on downs by Lanier with 4:50 left to play in the half.

Not taking advantage of the opportunities was the story of the night for the Pirates, finishing with two consecutive three-and-outs.

The Bulldogs seized the half by putting together a six-play drive where Maves-Peel found receiver Michael Brown in the back corner of the end zone from twelve yards out with 7.2 seconds left in the half. As Maves-Peel scampered through on the two-point conversion, the halftime score was 30-7.

Beginning the second half behind, the Pirates could not find anything on the opening series, as Allison was sacked twice. However, Lanier failed to take advantage by fumbling with 8:24 left inside the 35-yard line to Pass Christian. The Pirates took four plays and appeared to have new life as Allison hit senior receiver Joshua Tinson for a 22-yard goal line score. Klein's conversion put the new score at 30-14.

At the time, neither team realized that would be the final score.

"I was proud of our kids in the second half, as we scored on them and they didn't score any," said Wittmann. "We had a bunch of opportunities that we didn't take advantage of."

Even with the rhythm moving towards the Pirates after the score and their defensive stop of Lanier, Pass Christian fumbled the ball to Lanier with 5:24 left in the third quarter. The Bulldogs controlled the ball for a majority of the last ten minutes of the game, where the Pirates were there own worst enemy with sacks and short yardage gains.

Allison threw for 46 yards and a touchdown on seven completions with 13 attempts. He was sacked eight times, which brought down his yards on the ground, though.

Pass Christian High School plays on the road at Perry Central next Friday at 7 p.m.

Tigers stumble & fumble against Lumberton 27-6

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

The Bay High Tigers opened their home season on Friday night under the lights at Joe D. McCullough Stadium/Tank Williams Field hosting the Lumberton Panthers in a non-division contest. With cooler temperatures in the air than last Friday, the Tigers hit the lanes and their opponents hard but had great difficulty holding onto the ball which ultimately cost them an opportunity at more points and perhaps a win. The Tigers (0-2) stumbled in their home opener and fell 27-6 to the Panthers.

Bay High, as a team put themselves in a position to score more points, but eventually turned the ball over five times on six fumbles. The Tigers rushed for 334 yards on offense but the five lost fumbles diminished the rushing totals. In two games, the Tigers have fumbled the ball nine times.

Lumberton opened the game on offense and ran five plays including a 29-yard gain to the Tiger 28 yard line before Seth Russo recovered a loose Panther ball at the Tiger 30 yard line.

Bay High mounted a 12-play drive that ate up 4:15 off the clock in the opening quarter. Cade Compretta returned to the lineup after sitting out last year with shoulder surgery and he proved why he needs to be on a prospect list for a four-year school somewhere. On Compretta's first carry of the game, he plowed over Panther defenders for a 17-yard gain to the Tiger 46 yard line. He toted the pigskin three more times on the drive for 30 more yards before the Tigers attempted a 33-yard field goal that fell short.

The Panthers took over at their own 20 yard line and handed off to sophomore phenom running back Robert Henry five times on the 12-play drive. His final carry culminated the drive with a six-yard touchdown with 2:20 left in the opening stanza. The PAT was good making the score 7-0.

After the touchback, the Tigers started a six-play drive from their own 20 yard line. Josh Peters hit Maxwell Lewis for a gain of eight yards followed by a Compretta gallop for 14 yards to the Tiger 45 yard line. However, two plays later the Tigers fumbled their first loose ball away at the Panther 44 yard line.

The Panthers were the beneficiaries of two consecutive Tiger penalties, one being defensive holding on a passing attempt and the other was a dead ball unsportsmanlike conduct penalty on the Tiger sideline that brought the ball to the Tiger 31 yard line. Nathan Fleming threw Henry for a four-yard loss. Two plays later, the Tigers were flagged for an illegal receiver downfield that stalled the drive at the Tiger 30 yard line. Lumberton lined up to punt and try and pin the Tigers deep but Maxwell Lewis broke through and got a piece of the ball forcing just a five-yard punt to the 25 yard line.

With new life, the Tigers began to work their offensive backfield by committee with tremendous thanks in large part to a dominating performance from the offensive line - Chase Necaise, Bryce Fegurgur, Frank Reyes, Kameron Taylor, Dakarai Taylor and Jordan Calomese.

Dominic Anderson picked up gains of 23 and 17 yards on consecutive carries followed by four and six yards from Dalton Bourgeois and Skyler Primus, respectively.

Primus added another four yards and Compretta made the Panthers pay for five yards down to the Lumberton 17 yard line. Primus added another 10 yards before the Tigers fumbled the ball away at the Panther four yard line ending what appeared to be a sure score.

Henry went to work for the Panthers with consecutive four-yard gains before an incomplete pass. Henry then broke free for a 21-yard gain; however, Primus made a touchdown saving tackle, stripped the ball and recovered it all on the same play at the Panther 41 yard line.

Unfortunately, the Tiger offense could not get into gear and were forced to punt away. Noah Cutter pinned the Panthers at their own 23 yard line.

Lumberton put together a nine-play drive mixing the ground game with the passing game that brought the ball down to the Tiger seven yard line. Cutter broke through on the next play and brought Henry down for a nine-yard loss and stripped the ball allowing Maxwell Lewis to cover up the loose ball at the Tiger 16 yard line.

With 52 seconds left and down just seven points, the Tigers elected to run the clock out with Compretta gaining six yards and Sema'j Robertson 17 yards to send the game into intermission.

The Tigers opened the second half on offense but were unable to muster any offense after Compretta picked up nine yards on two carries. A personal foul penalty on Lumberton gave Bay High a new set of sticks on the first play but a fumble three plays later stalled the drive and forcing a Tiger punt by Cutter that put the ball on the Panther two yard line.

Lumberton responded with a 10-play drive that brought the ball out to the Panther 47 yard line where the Lumberton offense ran into a Tiger wall on a fourth-and-inches situation. That wall was built out of Dylan Spiers, Chase Necaise, Kameron Taylor and, you guessed it, Compretta. Bay High took over at the Panther 47 yard line.

The Tigers got four yards from Anderson followed by 15 yards from Primus and six more by Compretta. Primus added five yards before the Tigers lost another fumble at the Panther 19 yard line ending another positive drive.

The Panthers wasted little time converting the turnover into points. Lumberton four plays in 1:16 and found the endzone on a 32-yard run with 2:17 left in the third quarter. The PAT was good making the score 14-0.

Following the ensuing kickoff, the Tigers took over at their own 34 yard line but were unable to move the ball and were forced to punt away. The Panthers fumbled the ball away as Cutter forced the ball loose and Lewis covered it up for his second fumble recovery of the game. However, the teams traded turnovers as the Tigers gave it right back to the Panthers two plays later at the Tiger 29 yard line.

Henry scored for Lumberton on a 16-yard run with 11:23 left in the game. The PAT missed wide right leaving the score 20-0.

Robertson returned the ensuing kickoff to the Tiger 24 yard line. Robertson picked up a first down with an 11-yard gain but the Tigers fumbled it away on the very next play.

Lumberton used a six-play drive to get the ball in the end zone on a 11-yard keeper by the quarterback with 8:03 left to play. The PAT was good making the score 27-0.

Robertson returned the kickoff to the 35 yard line and the Tigers mounted a 12-play drive that featured slashing runs and bruising gains. Anderson had gains of nine and two yards while Compretta bullied his way forward for gains of four, 13, two and two yards. Robertson added gains of one and six yards before he broke free around the left end for a 12-yard scoring run with 3:40 left in the game. The two-point conversion attempt fell short leaving the score 27-6. Each team traded a possession to run the clock out.

Bay High head coach Ben Foreman commented, "We killed our chances tonight with not holding onto the football. Our offensive line opened gaping holes and our backs did a great job finding the holes and getting through them for some nice gains. But, just as we were knocking on the door we lost the fumble. It doesn't matter what we rushed for as a team, we have to hold onto the football. A team cannot be victorious putting the ball on the carpet six times and losing five of them. Defensively, we played hard and were in the right spots and schemes but allowed them to gain more yards instead of getting them on the ground at the point of impact."

Compretta led the offensive attack with 14 carries for 107 yards followed by Anderson with 11 carries for 79 yards. Robertson had 10 carries for 82 yards and the touchdown while Primus added 11 carries for 61 yards. Defensively, Compretta led the Tigers with 19 tackles followed by Seth Russo with 10 stops, a fumble recovery and a hurry. Lewis chalked up a prolific game from his safety position with nine tackles, two fumble recoveries and a blocked punt. Spiers ended the game with seven tackles while Cutter had six and forced two fumbles.

Foreman ended, "We are traveling to Long Beach next Friday to play a team that is competing hard and has perhaps the best quarterback on the Coast taking snaps.

"It will be another difficult contest for us but if we are able to limit our mistakes and force them into some unforced errors good things can happen."

Game time is set for 7pm at Lumpkin-Magee Stadium. See you at the game!

SEA COAST ECHO

The 41st Annual Hancock Chamber Business & Industry Awards Gala Thursday night (August 23rd) at Hollywood Casino – Gulf Coast was nothing short of an evening at the Academy Awards. 400 business and governmental leaders gathered to recognize outstanding citizens, businesses and present the industrial award of excellence.

JIM COLLINS ELECTED CITIZEN OF THE YEAR

During the event, Jim Collins, Executive Director of the Hancock County Food Pantry was elected as Citizen of the Year by members of the Hancock Chamber of Commerce from a field of 10 Outstanding Citizens.

An avid member of the Rotary Club, you never know when you will run in to Jim. At almost 89 years of age, he volunteers his time applying his leadership and financial skills so the Food Pantry can help tens of thousands in need.

And, you may also find him at the Hospital greeting patients or at Dunbar Village just visiting with the residents. This New Orleans native has called Bay St. Louis home for more than 50 years. He worked for 27 years as CEO of Goodwill Industries of Southeastern Louisiana and another 17 years working in marketing for Goodwill of South Mississippi before retiring.

You'll also find him at the local soup kitchen, Kings Kitchen, where he cuts the hair of the people who may need a "pick me up!" He is constantly offering rides to Walmart and Doctor's offices to those without cars in our community. He visits shut-ins weekly. As a faithful Roman Catholic, he sings and reads at morning masses and goes to the adoration chapel at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church every single day.

"On behalf of the Collins family, I just want to say a huge thank you to the members of the Hancock Chamber of Commerce for recognizing my precious father-in-law for his tremendous and quiet service to this community," said Shannon O'Brien Collins.

"He is constantly showing all of us (his three sons and seven grandchildren), through his actions, how to live as followers of Christ," said Shannon. "I am proud to be his daughter-in-law, and I am thankful to the members of the Hancock Chamber for recognizing his loving service to our community. I know, when his time comes to go to Heaven, which I hope will be a long time from now---God will look at Jim Collins and say: job well done, my good and faithful servant!"

HANCOCK COUNTY'S OUTSTANDING CITIZENS RECOGNIZED

Nine other outstanding citizens were recognized during the Gala. Cynthia Chauvin is Executive Director of CASA Hancock County, improving quality of life for the children. Through the St. Rose Outreach Group, Janita

Cole is paying it forward helping those in need. Bernie Cullen uses her many talents to get things done wherever she sees a need—Ground Zero Hurricane Museum, the arts, the library and beautification. Rick Fayard has served the county for more than 20 years, helping with emergency management to prepare the community. Ashley Mayley demonstrates her passion to help others through her work with the Bay St. Louis Rotary, Relay for Life and more. Karen Rice heads up Keep Diamondhead Beautiful creating a clean, green and beautiful community. Samantha Walley, as past president of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, embodies what community volunteerism is all about through her spirit of giving. Edward Wikoff gives generously of his time as

RELATIVITY SPACE RECEIVES INDUSTRIAL AWARD OF EXCELLENCE The event is also co-presented with the Chamber by the Hancock County Port & Harbor Commission. The Commission presented the prestigious Industrial Award of Excellence to Relativity Space at NASA

Stennis Space Center. Accepting the award for the company was CEO Tim Ellis. "Through Relativity Space technology, rockets will be built and flown in days instead of years," said Ellis. "We are building the future of humanity in space." Relativity Space has established a new process to build in-flight rockets, 3D printing entire rockets. "We have actually built the largest medal 3D printer in the world and are building the first factory that will actually print rockets made on Mars," said Ellis. "We have already tested 100 3D printed rocket engines at Stennis, and we have proven that the technology does work. That's why we are expanding our presence at Stennis to build the whole rocket there." Relativity Space is a $45 million venture capital backed start-up company. Already, they have invested $1.5 million in Stennis using existing, unused facilities to build its capability on top of it, which saves the company time and money and is good news for taxpayers and NASA. "We plan to significantly expand our team of three employees and invest another $5 million at Stennis," he said.

"Relativity Space shows that Mississippi can attract millennial talent and high tech entrepreneurship companies without massive incentives," said Bill Cork, CEO of the Hancock County Port & Harbor Commission. "It also shows that our federal governmental agencies like NASA can rapidly and responsibly create new and important commercial partnerships to grow and expand the jobs in our region." Platinum sponsors of the event are: Aerojet Rocketdyne, American Medical Response, Coast Electric Power Association, Hancock Whitney Bank, Hollywood Casino - Gulf Coast, Lockheed Martin, Mississippi Power Company, and Silver Slipper Casino Hotel. Gold sponsors of the event are: Goodwill Industries of South Mississippi, James J. Chiniche, P. A. Engineering and Surveying, John McDonald Realty, Ochsner Medical Center - Hancock, Southern Mississippi Planning & Development District, and The Peoples Bank.

Gypsy is a petite, 2 year old American Staffordshire Terrier mix, who was reluctantly surrendered by her owner due to "landlord issues", and through no fault of her own. Her owner indicated that she is friendly with other dogs and great with children. Well, we must agree! Gypsy's loving foster family tells us that she is all about the love. She is a cuddler, hugger, and kisser, and loves everyone she meets?? Her foster family includes large breed dogs, and she is fine with the size differential. She may be, however, be too playful for very small, fragile dogs like Chihuahuas. She does well on a leash and harness, and is house trained and very well behaved. While Gypsy adores kids and a fun filled family atmosphere, she would also make a devoted companion for an active single person or couple, or retirees. She is a fabulous girl with lots of love to share with her forever family. Please stop by 7175 Texas Flat Rd, Kiln, and meet Gypsy. She is a doll and you will fall in love with her. Call 466 4516 for more information, and visit our Facebook page, Hancock County Animal Shelter, MS, to see more pictures of Gypsy, and of the many other wonderful, adoptable doggies and kitties, looking for their forever homes.

DEVOTIONAL PAGE

WHERE IS GOD DURING THESE PUBLIC SHOOTINGS?

BY GARY ANDREWS

GARY@GADEVOTIONALS.COM

In light of all the tragedies from shootings in our schools and other public forums, we have many people asking why this is going on. When did this begin? Why are we having such abnormal behavior?

Being a senior citizen and reminiscing from my past I can't remember this type of behavior going through our neighborhoods. I saw something that interested me on a facebook post that said, "Dear God, Why do you allow so much violence in our schools? Signed, A Concerned Student." God's answer went like this, "Dear Concerned Student, I'm not allowed in schools. God."

When I was in school we had devotionals and Bible readings every morning. No one every complained and the ones that didn't want to participate or listen to them, didn't have to. Now that we had one person stand up and speak up against prayer and Bible reading in school our government officials decided it was unfair for her children to hear about the saving grace of Jesus Christ and the sweet harmony and peace that only He can provide for each of us. Ultimately the United States Supreme Court agreed with her and penalized everyone else. Former Arkansas Governor and Presidential candidate Mike Huckabee has repeatedly stated that taking prayer out of school has hurt our education system. I totally agree with him. Mr. Huckabee has taken untold criticism about his statements because of the way the world has changed and all of the agnostics and atheists speak up. He has been challenged by people saying where is your God and why would He allow all of this to happen. Incidentally the national media give more attention to the naysayers and their ideas than to a Christian point of view. These media outlets and all of the political pundits rely on the national government as the savior of the world and not realize that someday this world will perish. Proverbs 14:12 tells us, "There is a way that seems right to a man, but its end is the way to death." Studying God's Word and staying in His will is the only way we are once again going to be one nation under God. Until this happens I believe we can expect these horrible tragedies to continue. It is a shame that the people that criticize the views of Governor Huckabee really don't understand his point of view. Prayer: Holy God I call on you to heal this land and this people again. I pray that all of us will understand that you are the one and only true God and that you are ultimately in control. Amen.

Thrifty & Fritter™

REACHING A GOAL

What's up, Fritter?

I really want to buy a new scooter, Thrifty, but it costs $60!

That's a lot. But if you try earning it $10 at a time, you can do this!

It's like when you painted the back fence. You did it in small sections at a time, and soon it was finished!

See what I mean, Fritter?

Yep. You're saying I should have paid myself $60 to paint the fence!

Number the steps in order to see how I saved up $60 to buy my new scooter!

How I Got My Scooter

by Fritter

First, I set a goal to save the money to buy it. The scooter I wanted cost $60.

In all, I repeated the goal of saving $10 six times. And that's how I saved $60!

After that, I made the goal to save $10 again.

So I made a goal to save just $10 at first.

$60 seemed like an enormous amount of money. But my pal Thrifty told me to think of the $60 as a series of smaller goals.

Put a check next to each job Fritter did to earn $10 to put in his piggy bank each week. If you check the right boxes, they add up to exactly $10.

- ☐ Mowed the lawn: $3
- ☐ Took out the trash: $1
- ☐ Sold lemonade: $4
- ☐ Fed our neighbor's bird: $1
- ☐ Recycled bottles and cans: $3
- ☐ Raked leaves: $2

You Can Do It!

What is a big goal you would like to achieve? Is it saving money, improving how well you play a sport or completing a big homework project?

My Goal: _____

Break your goal into smaller goals:

First:	Second:	Third:	Fourth:
_____	_____	_____	_____

TRY THIS AT HOME Can You Predict?

Part 1:
Look through the newspaper and find a headline that interests you. Read the headline and look at any photos that accompany the article. With your learning buddy, discuss what you think the article will be about. List information that you both expect to find in the article:

Part 2:
Now read the article together. Which of your predictions were accurate? Which were not? List five facts you learned from the article:

FROM THE Kid Scoop® LESSON LIBRARY

Wants and Needs

Look through the newspaper advertisements and make a list of 10 things you want (toys, movies, etc.) and 10 things you need (healthy food, a coat, etc.). Add up the cost of each list. Are wants or needs more expensive?

Standards Link: Economics: Understand the differences between wants and needs.
